

Some Suggested Questions for Debriefing in Spontaneous

Basics:

- How do you feel you did?
- What did you like?
- What was creative?
- What was challenging?
- What was fun?

Team Leadership:

- Was there a leader? What moves did that person complete that showed leadership?
- What was the best move a team member made? Why?
- Who helped clarify the problem? Helped you get points?
- Who listened and caught important parts of the problem?
- What teamwork stood out? What might have been missing?

Materials:

- Did you use all the materials? Why or why not?
- Were any of the materials there to distract?
- What materials do you wish you had - Could the existing materials serve the same purpose?

Time:

- How did the team manage its time?
- Where would you change your use of time?
- What do you need to be aware of in the future?
- When/where did you push the solution too far?

Verbals:

- What responses were funny?
- Which responses helped you think of new responses?
- Did you come up with a “theme” when solving?
- How did you show this theme?

Miscellaneous:

- What did you learn by doing this problem?
- What really worked?
- What do you want to do/remember the next time you do a similar problem?
- If you could do this problem again, what would you do differently? Be specific.